

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A wireless system according to the present invention, comprising: a wireless apparatus which performs a broadcast service for a plurality of wireless terminals; simplex first wireless channels each being
5 set between the wireless terminal and the plurality of wireless terminals, in which the wireless apparatus performs the broadcast service to the plurality of wireless terminals; and a bidirectional second wireless
10 channel set between the wireless apparatus and at least portion of the plurality of wireless terminals, which offers an supplemental service relating to the broadcast service.